The School of the Arts maintains an exceptional faculty whose accomplishments are recognized locally, regionally, nationally and internationally. Students command high professional regard. The disciplines that make up the School of the Arts place the teaching of students as their central mission. The School of the Arts provides a professional environment conducive to artistic growth which prepares students for the aesthetic challenges facing musicians, artists, designers, historians, and teachers in the 21st century. The School recognizes and embraces important influences on the arts which cross national borders.

The School of the Arts provides the region with a stimulating community of students, artists, scholars and teachers who apply aesthetic and intellectual vision to the expression of complex ideas; who value both artistic tradition and experimentation in the search for creative solutions; who connect global perspectives to professional education; who integrate technical skills with theoretical understandings; and who care about the impact of their work on people.

The School of the Arts annually hosts a number of guest artists who provide students with rich professional training experiences. These artists appear as part of the major exhibitions in the Fine Arts Gallery, the Sturgis Library Gallery, and performances in the Premiere Series, the Musical Arts Series, and the Classic TheaterWorks. The School of the Arts offers the Starlight Summer Series at the Legacy Gazebo Amphitheater featuring local and international jazz artists. These unique experiences provide exceptional opportunities for the school's talented students.

The School of the Arts offers both academic and professional programs of study which prepare students for careers in the visual and performing arts. Undergraduate programs are built upon a strong common liberal arts component. Through its departments, the school offers the Bachelor of Arts degrees in Music, and Theater, the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Art, the Bachelor of Music degrees in Music Education, Performance, and the Bachelor of Science degree in Art Education.

Special units in the School of the Arts include: The University Box Office - this office services audience development, ticketing, and event information needs of the university.

The Stillwell Theater - theatrical, musical, and other university events are held in the University's Stillwell Theater.

Academic Departments

The School of the Arts houses three academic departments:

- The Department of Music (B.A., B.M.)
- Department of Theater (B.A.)
- Department of Visual Arts (B.F.A., B.S.)

Department of Music (770) 423-6151

The Department of Music provides a variety of services to the university through its commitment to the liberal arts tradition, core curriculum and its maintenance of professional degree programs. Among the objectives of the department are training performers and music teachers in the areas of piano, voice, string, brass, woodwind, guitar and percussion instruments; providing suitable background for advanced study by graduates; and offering leadership in the community through making available recitals, concerts, musicals and operas. Kennesaw State University is an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music.

The Department of Music offers programs of study leading to the Bachelor of Arts in music, the Bachelor of Music degree in music education (choral, instrumental and general (P-12), and the Bachelor of Music in Performance (piano, voice, winds, percussion and guitar).

Department of Theater (770) 499-3123

The Department of Theater offers a liberal arts degree, the Bachelor of Arts, in theater. The program offers course work in both practical and theoretical aspects of study, with emphasis in performance, directing, , musical theater, dance or design/technology. Additionally, the program offers opportunities for the individual development of the students, as well as preparation for graduate study in theater and other fields, or entry into the profession.

The department provides students with the opportunity to study and perform theater in a variety of contexts, especially those of the liberal arts education and of the art form with a world tradition reaching back as far as three thousand years. The program strives to provide superior theatrical experiences for our campus and community, particularly concentrating on classic theatrical works which form a part of the humanistic tradition. The major program, which is available as well to non-majors interested in advanced study, is designed to provide a broad perspective on theater as a historic, global, and aesthetic form. All students are expected to contribute to the collaborative creation of theatrical works of art, while also studying the lasting contributions such work can make.

Department of Visual Arts (770) 423-6139

The Department of Visual Arts offers programs of study in studio art, graphic communication and art education (P-12). In addition to a professional emphasis, the program is grounded in the liberal arts tradition. That students should be knowledgeable in a variety of disciplines, including the visual arts, is a key rationale for the activities and programs of the department. General department goals are to assist students in the acquisition of a broad understanding of the visual arts and to recognize art quality in their own personal expressions as well as in the work of others; to provide direct experiences in the visual arts for students, faculty, and the community through quality art exhibitions, lectures, and publications; and to provide professional training for individuals seeking careers in the visual arts.

Cooperative study and internship programs are available through the department for students to gain work experience in conjunction with their academic training. Students are encouraged to expand their educational experience through participation in Visions, The Student Art Guild, and by attending the numerous art exhibitions and lectures held throughout the academic year.

Admission to the Department of Music

Applied music study may not be initiated until the student has been fully accepted by the Department of Music as a music major. All students enrolling at KSU for a second degree in music must meet all departmental audition requirements and pass all departmental placement tests in music theory and music history with a grade of 80 or higher. Prior to admission to a music degree program, the prospective music major is required to complete an application form to the department of music and present an audition (or tape) in the principal area of applied concentration and demonstrate a musical background sufficient for the undertaking of basic musicianship studies at the level of entry into the music program (freshman, sophomore, etc.). Applicants may also elect to audition on more than one instrument and/or an instrument and voice. Auditions are conducted by the music faculty on the Kennesaw State University campus. Applicants schedule auditions by making arrangements with the office of the Department of Music.

Audition Requirements

Woodwinds and Brass auditions must include at least two (2) solo works written for the specific instrument. One work may be an etude or study. The other work should be a solo, sonata, or concerto which specifically demonstrates a faster, articulate movement or section and a slower, lyrical movement or section.

String auditions must include at least two (2) solo works, one of which must be a complete movement from a concerto or sonata from the baroque, classical, romantic, or contemporary periods.

Percussion auditions must demonstrate proficiency on timpani, snare drum, and a mallet instrument - either marimba, vibraphone, or xylophone.

Piano auditions must include two (2) solo works representative of the baroque, classical, romantic, or contemporary periods.

Voice auditions must demonstrate clear diction, accurate pitch, acceptable tone quality, breath control, a concept of phrasing, and an ability to communicate through song. Singers must have (2) solo songs in contrasting styles chosen from baroque, classical, romantic, or contemporary art song repertory, one of which would preferably be in English. (Audition repertory could include English and Italian art songs, German and French art songs, oratorio and opera arias, and contemporary English language art songs.) All music performed must be memorized. Accompanists for auditions can be provided by the Department of Music. Applicants may make arrangements for accompaniment by contacting the office of the Department of Music.

Transfer Admissions

Students who wish to transfer into the Department of Music from another institution follow the same admissions procedure as all new students. Transfer students are placed at an academic level in their principal area of applied concentration based upon the transferable amount of study earned at other institutions and the performance level demonstrated at the audition. Transfer credit for all course work is evaluated at the time of acceptance. Students who transfer completed baccalaureate applied performance credit to KSU will be required to take additional applied performance study and additional ensemble so as to parallel remaining semesters of degree program of study at KSU.

The Department of Music accepts students from other schools and colleges at Kennesaw State University on the same basis as new students and/or transfer students from other institutions. Interested and qualified students are encouraged to transfer into the program.

General Requirements

A variety of department regulations and policies affect music majors. Included are requirements for recital participation, ensemble participation, recital attendance, piano proficiency, departmental assessment procedures, and applied juries. The departmental Handbook for Music Majors provides music majors with policies, regulations and general advisement materials. Music majors are required to attend 60 of the designated faculty recitals, guest artist recitals, and other special music programs as part of the graduation requirement. This requirement must include three (3) non-Western and nine (9) Atlanta Symphony music programs.

Enrollment in an applied area of concentration and in an appropriate large ensemble (wind ensemble for winds and percussion; orchestra for strings; chorale or chamber singers for voice, piano, guitar) is required of all music majors as specified in the degree program. Further, music students must be enrolled in an appropriate large ensemble (wind ensemble for winds and percussion; orchestra for strings; chorale for voice, piano, guitar) every semester in which the student is enrolled in applied music. Placement of all students (majors, minors and non-majors) in all choral ensembles is determined by the director of choral activities at KSU.

64 School of the Arts

Performance majors must present a junior and senior recital. Voice performance majors must participate in three (3) KSU opera/musical theater productions. Bachelor of Arts voice majors must participate in one (1) KSU opera/musical theater production. Students must earn a grade of "C" or higher in music theory courses MUSI 1121, 1122, 2221, 2222, and aural skills courses MUSI 1111, 1112, 2111, 2112.
