

Test Anxiety

University-level exams can stir the anxiety of even the most prepared students. Using the Regents Exam as an example, this presentation will help students recognize their own levels of anxiety regarding testing and provide them with some techniques to successfully manage that anxiety. 45 min

