

International Time Zone Map

provided courtesy of

Use this map for easy identification of world time zones. It can help you determine the local time where you are calling. Remember to subtract one hour for every time zone you cross going westward (right to left). Conversely, you must add one hour for every time zone you cross going east (left to right). For example, if you are calling from New York City at 9am, it is 2pm in London and 10pm in Hong Kong.