

Barbara Keon is a distinguished retired attorney who built a highly respected family law practice that operated in Atlanta for more than 34 years. She has been featured multiple times in Georgia Super Lawyers Magazine and Atlanta Magazine as a Super Lawyer and was named by Georgia Trend as one of "Georgia's Legal Elite." Barbara is a member of the State Bars of Georgia and South Carolina and has been recognized as a Martindale-Hubbell AV Preeminent-rated attorney. Throughout her career, she was known for providing pragmatic, quality legal representation with a focus on personal service and client communication. Beyond her legal practice, Barbara has been active in Atlanta's professional community as a member of the Women's Commerce Club of Atlanta and the Lawyers Club of Atlanta. She is also a dedicated member of the Church of the Apostles. Her commitment to excellence in business and law drives her passion for supporting the next generation of business leaders through support of the Kennesaw State University Coles Leadership Scholars program. Barbara lives with her husband, fellow Hall of Fame honoree Donald Dalton, a retired banking and finance executive.