

Donald Dalton retired as Executive Vice President of Corporate and Investment Banking at Regions Bank in 2014, capping a 40-year career in banking and finance. He later founded a consulting firm and served as Senior Advisory Director for PNC's Corporate and Middle Market Banking in Georgia, retiring in 2023. Donald has advised public and private boards, CEOs, CFOs, and investment managers on mergers, capital strategies, and scaling businesses. He's built syndication groups, structured multi-billion-dollar deals, and maintained strong ties with major accounting and law firms, with a focus on manufacturing, retail, and consumer products. His nonprofit service includes Big Brothers Big Sisters, the Atlanta Arts Center, UNCF, and several educational institutions, including Kennesaw State University, where he supports students in the Coles Leadership Scholars program. He holds a BBA and MBA from Georgia State University, along with insurance and securities certifications. Donald lives in Atlanta with his wife, fellow Hall of Fame honoree Barbara Keon, an attorney.
