

Kim Schwartz – Executive Bio

Kim Schwartz

LinkedIn profile

As Managing Director at Accenture, Kim Schwartz leads its US Health Technology Business, where she leverages innovation and advanced technology to help healthcare organizations achieve transformative business value. With a career dedicated to improving healthcare systems and outcomes, Kim is known for her strategic leadership and her ability to drive meaningful change. In her role, she leads global teams, ensuring that diverse perspectives and collaboration are integral to delivering impactful solutions for clients.

A passionate advocate for professional development, Kim cares deeply about growing the next generation of leaders. She dedicates time to mentoring and empowering others, fostering a culture of innovation, inclusion, and growth within her teams and beyond. Outside of her professional role, Kim enjoys quality time with her husband, kids, and extended family. She is also an active supporter of nonprofits, such as Ignite Health, Barrels for Hope, and Bourbon Women. Through board participation, event planning, and fundraising, she channels her energy into advancing causes close to her heart.

With a commitment to leadership, innovation, and giving back, Kim continues to leave a lasting impact on the healthcare industry and her community. Her blend of global expertise, personal dedication, and drive to inspire others defines her as a leader in both her career and philanthropic efforts.