An important resource that we recommend is the "At Risk" Online Training. It is designed to help identify signs of distress, communicate openly with students, and transition to the appropriate outlet. A link to this training can be found on the BRT website under "Resources".

Administrative Emergency
Withdrawals:
Administrative Emergency Withdrawals are designed for students who experience medical or psychological emergencies that impede their ability to successfully remain enrolled at KSU. This process can help students focus on healing without harming their academic record. For questions, instructions, or to view the current semester's deadline, please go to: deanofstudents.kennesaw.edu/resources/withdrawal

1. Go to brt.kennesaw.edu
2. Find the “Red Flag Reporting” button in the middle of the page
3. Be as detailed as possible; specific observed behavior, what was said, etc.*

Behavioral Response Team:
The Behavioral Response Team (BRT) is a cross-functional team of experts from across the university and is coordinated through the Office of the Dean of Students. The team reviews situations involving concerning behaviors (primarily involving students, but also employees, parents, guests, etc.—any situation that might impact the safety and security of the university community on or off campus).
