LEARNING THROUGH DIRECT EXPERIENCE AND RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES

Our faculty and students collaborate on exciting field work, service learning and project-based learning. The Psychology program also has opportunities for research through its labs focused on neuroscience, animal behavior, conservation, cultural phenomenon, sex trafficking and intergroup relations.

STUDY ABROAD

Many of our faculty offer courses in KSU's Study Abroad Program.

Whether it's studying Environmental Psychology in Portugal, the Psychology of Theater in London, General Psychology in Paris, or any of the other opportunities offered, you'll get a global perspective on psychology while enjoying a life-changing experience.

INTERNSHIPS, RESEARCH AND TEACHING

Students can pursue teaching assistantships, internships, and research projects with our esteemed faculty.
